Summary of reasons for decision:

The image file exploits the nudity of a young girl to an extent and degree that renders its availability likely to be injurious to the public good. The file has been downloaded from the internet. The photographic image shows a prepubescent girl posing for the camera wearing only a pair of form-fitting briefs. The photographer has taken advantage of the vulnerability of a young girl who does not have the maturity necessary to be aware of possible consequences, and has clearly done so for sexual purposes. No plausible alternative context or purpose is likely.

Banning this publication limits the freedom of expression guaranteed by the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. This outcome is consistent, however, with Parliament's intention to limit the availability of publications that exploit the nudity of children.
